

THE FORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT FOR CONSTIPATION

Constipation is nothing more than a clogging of the bowels and nothing less than vital stagnation or death if not relieved. If every constipated sufferer could realize that he is allowing poisonous filth to remain in his system, he would soon get relief. Constipation invites all kinds of contagion. Headaches, biliousness, colds and many other ailments disappear when constipated bowels are relieved. The Ford's Black-Draught thoroughly cleans out the bowels in an easy and natural manner without the purging of calomel or other violent cathartics.

Be sure that you get the original The Ford's Black-Draught, made by The Chattanooga Medicine Co. Sold by all druggists in 25 cent and $1.00 packages.

Morgan, Ark., May 27, 1901.

I cannot recommend The Ford's Black-Draught too highly. I keep it in my house all the time and have used it for the last ten years. I never gave my children any other laxative. I think I could never be able to work without it on account of being troubled with constipation. Your medicine is all that keeps me up.

C. B. McFARLAND.

JAWS

Tightly Locked From Nervous Spasms.
Physicians Could Not Prevent Fits.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Cured
My Wife.

Dr. Miles' Nervine has been successfully tried in thousands of cases of nervous disorders, but never has it made a better record than when used in the treatment of fits or spasms. Thousands of testimonials prove this, and in nearly every instance the writer has stated that the fits ceased after the first dose of Nervine was given. The statement is repeated in the following:

Seven years ago my wife commenced having spasms or fits and I called in my home physician and he said she was paralyzed. He rubbed her with salt water and gave her calomel and she eventually got some better, but in a short time she had another attack. She was confined to her bed for three months and the doctor could not help her. She had fits frequently, some times very severe. Her hands would cramp so we could not open them and she finally got so her jaws would become locked. Finally I saw the doctor was doing her no good and ordered a bottle of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. She received so much benefit from the first bottle that I got some more. She has taken a number of bottles but has never had a fit since taking the first dose. She also thinks very highly of Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills and is never without them. If there is any way of making this testimonial stronger so because of the good Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine did my wife. —WM. V. ALLEN, P. M., Elkville, Miss.

THE WELL BRED WOMAN.

She is Marked by the Posture She Assumes When Sitting.

Nothing points out the well bred woman more quickly than the position she takes when she sits down. The stamp of vulgarity is marked upon the woman who sits with her knees spread far apart, lack of refinement is shown by knees crossed offensively, lack of ease by stiff and constrained position of the shoulders, a general carelessness and indifference by the very common fault of "sitting in the shoulders"—that is, of doubling the spine so that the upper part rather than the lower part of it rests against the back of the chair, says the New York Herald.

The body should be placed well back upon the seat, chair, sofa or whatever it may be. The feet should rest on the floor, one somewhat in front of the other, because it is easier to rise from that position. The head must be kept well up and the chest poised slightly forward.

The lower part of the spine may be pressed against the frame of the chair, but if one, after sitting awhile, should need to rest a little more the shoulders may also touch upon the same support. The hands should remain as they naturally fall from this position, hanging at the side, or they may be placed easily over the arms or back of the chair or allowed to lie reposefully on the lap. To rise properly from a correct sitting position there should be several preparatory movements.

The chest is first poised far forward, and at the same time the foot is drawn back under the seat. The foot drawn in should be the one opposite from the direction to be taken in starting up. As you rise throw the weight firmly upon the foot in the rear. As the body comes to its full height change the weight to the forward foot, so that the other foot merely touches the floor very lightly. This brings you to a standing position, ready to walk easily in the direction you are going.

Handy Bookcase.

If you have books and a desk, and no bookcase, it is an easy matter to evolve the latter. Make two upright rows of bookshelves far enough apart to allow the desk to be placed between them. Shut off the lower part of the shelves on each side with a door, which may be decorated with iron hinges or blackened metal. These false hinges are, of course, placed against the real ones on which the door swings and are purely ornamental. These little closets make fine places in which to keep unsightly books and magazines which look untidy, but which one always wants to keep. There is a shelf over the top of the desk, on which could be placed a row of plates or photographs, and a nice little etching would give interest to the big panel. This panel, by the way, need not be made of wood, but could be closed in by a piece of colored burlap or buckram. The case would then have to be braced by three slats of wood nailed across the back behind the bookcase.—Harper's.
